Ms. Shay Olivarria,

Thank you so much for presenting Creating Abundance By Buying What You Want Saturday, May 30th. The group really enjoyed your presentation style and valuable information.

Participants mentioned that you were not what they expected. A woman that attended told me that she expected the presentation to be a bit dry, but you kept the presentation moving with humor and interesting personal stories that made the information more clear. Another participant said that he was happy that he came because you shared some tips that he hadn't heard before. I also wanted to share this quote from a participant, "Shay, you did an excellent job. Your presentation was lively, informative, and funny! You have great energy and it comes through in your work."

Everyone especially enjoyed the handout. Not only did you come prepared with a wonderful PowerPoint presentation, but the worksheet helped the audience stay with you and made them feel like a part of the discussion instead of feeling like they were being lectured. Thank you for helping our members learn how to make S.M.A.R.T. money decisions.

I'm looking forward to working with you again.

Thanks again,
